

This is a conversation between Ralph Allison and Charity, a Professor CIE.

HERETICS

Charity: But it does not keep peace in this generation, because the quote of the species is rebelling against that oppression, so why are the humans trying to state the same thing and using oppression as a way of putting another species into control mechanism? First of all, The Creator is not going to put a control mechanism on any other human. That is why the Essences have a difficult time most times to get their message across to the human population. So if you can answer our question, please feel free to try.

Ralph: You didn't find me toting this around as a guide to my living, did you? I'm just pointing out that I think those explorations of the other gospels clearly indicate that Christ probably never said any of this.

C: Of course not.

R: And as a matter of fact, there is a whole group in England that meets together to decide what's likely what he said and what he didn't say. And this I don't think would pass muster. But that kind of attitude of judging what Christ said or didn't say is not accepted by these conservative religious people, because everything in there is equally true from their point of view. They have no other standard. You have another standard, they don't.

C: These humans, don't they use their own thoughts, their own reasoning tools?

R: Didn't you read Andy? Did he use his own reasoning tools?

C: No.

R: No. Does that answer your question?

C: Yes.

R: When you do, you become a heretic and they kill you.

C: On this avenue, I think we might want to stop.
